MORE UNREST IS NOTED ON LABOR FRONTOUTLOOK DARK FOR SETTLEMENT OF
SHIP STRIKE

(By The Associated Press)

Rumblings of new labor unrest grew louder along the industrial front Wednesday.

John L. Lewis' implicit warning of a new soft coal tieup was echoed by a key leader of the United Mine Workers; approximately 600 operating engineers threatened to join AFL service employees in the 13 day old Washington hotel strike, and an AFL spokesman reported "things look very bad" for settlement of the nationwide shipping strike.

However, CIO Western Union operators decided to postpone for a week their strike which threatened to cut New York off from most telegraphic communication, and the government made a new move to settle the strike of Trans World Airlines pilots.

Truman May Act

President Truman may indicate at a news conference Thursday morning what he plans to do about the threat of a coal strike, some officials believe. Reporters planned to query the President on the situation.

Lewis' demand that the government reopen its contract with his 400,000 soft coal miners by Nov. 1 was picked up by William Blizard, president of the UMW district embracing West Virginia. Blizard said the miners in the major coal producing state were getting "pretty hot" because of grievances over vacation pay and weighing of coal for the union's five-cent royalty on each ton for a health and welfare fund.

There seemed to be little doubt among government officials, however, that government representatives would meet with Lewis to discuss his new demands. Lewis contends his current contract with the government could be terminated within 30 days by normal procedure or within 10 days if the government refuses his demand to start negotiations. The government has operated the mines since last May, after seizing them to end a strike.

In Washington, the AFL international operating engineers local—representing the men who man furnaces, electric plants and other machinery—sought permission for a sympathy walkout with service employees strike in 18 swank hotels. Meantime, however, they stayed on the job.

Pilots Want Union

In the Maritime strike, Capt. Albert E. Oliver, chairman of the negotiating committee of the AFL masters, mates and pilots union, said his group would "lie up every ship in the world" unless shipowners agree to union membership for pilots.

If negotiations break down with East and Gulf ship owners, he told newsmen in New York, union representatives would return to their local and "take a vote on an all-out strike all over the country." He said prospects of settlement of the issue of union membership for pilots was dark.

Western Union operators in New York moved back their Wednesday midnight strike deadline to Oct. 30 after Deputy Mayor Thomas L. J. Corcoran said an interruption of telegraphic service was "unthinkable" while the city was "unthinkable" while the city

U.S. Navy Can Mobilize Million Trained Men In Emergency, Says Nimitz

Detroit, Oct. 23 (AP)—Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz said in a press conference today that the United States Navy can mobilize 1,000,000 trained men to meet "any emergency that may arise in the next two or three years."

The Admiral also defended the right of the Navy to send its ships into "any waters of the world" without their presence being considered "a provocative act."

The white-haired naval chief talked to reporters upon his arrival here to address the 11th Annual Convocation of the U. S. Chapter of the International College of Surgeons.

He termed the atomic bomb "a terribly destructive weapon" but said data obtained at Bikini will be made use of in preparing a defense of our ships "against that force."

The future of the bomb, Nimitz added, may best be left to the atomic bomb commission and the United Nations.

Chances of the UNO's success, the Admiral said, are "just as good as we want to make them" and the only alternative to collective efforts toward peace "is an armament race which is just too dreadful to contemplate."

"The United States was left in a position of preeminence after this war," the Navy veteran told reporters, "and this position carries with it great responsibility. We must carry the banner for a free and stable world."

"I believe the UNO will work if we take the time, patience and understanding to make it work."

As to naval preparedness, Admiral Nimitz said "the ships are ready and the men are ready" for any emergency in the immediate future. Of 3,000,000 discharged navy veterans, he estimated that 1,000,000 would be immediately available for mobilization if needed.

"Navy skills aren't lost in two or three years," he smiled.

ANIMAL PAINTER
E. T. SETON DIES

World-Famous Lecturer,
Author And Artist
Known Since 1898

Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 23 (AP)—Ernest Thompson Seton, 86, world-famous author, artist and lecturer who devoted more than half a century to depicting wildlife on canvas and the printed page, "so people would come to know and enjoy animals without killing them off," died today.

Since 1898, when his "Wild Animals I Have Known" became a best seller almost overnight, Seton had published more than 40 volumes containing thousands of his illustrations and had come to be known as one of the world's leading authorities on wildlife and Indian lore. His 42 books sold nearly 2,000,000 copies.

Generations of boys and girls learned of nature from reading his books. Thousands of persons had become familiar with his white mane and waxed moustache from his 3,000 appearances on the lecture platform.

Death came to him in his 30-room adobe house, perched castle-like atop a hill in a 2,500-acre tract 10 miles south of here. Circulatory trouble interrupted his vigorous, outdoor life several weeks ago.

His wife, the former Julia Butree, herself an authority on Indian lore, and their adopted daughter, Beulah, 8, were with him at "Seton village," when death came. A daughter, Ann, by his first marriage is author of the best seller, "Dragonwyck." She is Mrs. Hamilton Chase of Greenwich, Conn.

Sweden Will Buy
U. S. Army Planes
Listed As Surplus

Washington, Oct. 23 (AP)—With the blessing of state and war department officials, Sweden was granted permission tonight to purchase 90 American Army fighter planes now listed as surplus.

A state department spokesman said the state-war-navy departments, coordinating committee had approved the sale of the P-51 Mustangs to the war time neutral area after several months of consideration.

Swedish legation officials said the planes would be used to strengthen Sweden's air force. They maintained the sale had no connection with Sweden's efforts to trace the mysterious "Rockets" reported over the country in recent months.

Soybean Processing
Plant Sold By Ford

Detroit, Oct. 23 (AP)—The Ford Motor Company, which has been gradually disposing of various enterprises unrelated to the production of motor vehicles, announced today the sale of its soybean processing plant at Saline, Mich.

Purchaser was Soybrands, Inc. The price was not disclosed.

The Ford company recently sold its Willow Run hydro-plant and has closed several others in the nearby area.

The soy bean project was one of the favored undertakings of the elder Henry Ford, who spent much time and money in research establishing soy beans as an almost unlimited source of products for food and industrial uses.

He once described the soy bean mill within the big Rouge plant in nearby Dearborn as "one of the most important parts" of the company's operations. Today the mill is closed and undergoing alterations to convert it to other uses.

AIRLINE STRIKE
MOVES HOPEFUL

Both Sides Agree To Meeting With U. S.
Mediation Board

Washington, Oct. 23 (AP)—Chances for a settlement of the strike of 1,400 pilots of Transworld Airlines rose a notch tonight as both sides accepted the National Mediation Board's invitation to a conference.

Board Chairman Frank Douglas, stepping into the three-day walkout that has tied up the line's 28,000-mile system, called for a conference at the board's offices here at 11 a. m. tomorrow.

TWA President Jack Frye told reporters shortly afterward that he had accepted "gladly." David L. Bechneke, president of the AFL Airline Pilots Association, announced in Chicago he would also be on hand. He told newsmen he expected the company "to make the next move" in efforts to settle the dispute.

Douglas' action came a few hours after Frye expressed a desire that the government take over the airline in hope it would bring back the pilots. He announced that TWA is stripping to a skeleton force by furloughing 15,000 employees at once without pay.

The board attempted to mediate the strike last spring, and when that failed it recommended arbitration. The company accepted, but the union ignored it and issued a strike call, after which President Truman appointed an emergency fact finding board.

This board's pay recommendations were issued July 7 and put into effect by TWA on August 8. The union formally rejected the board's proposals on September 18.

Shortage Of Cars
Reduces Livestock
Receipts, Price Off

Chicago, Oct. 23 (AP)—Still influenced by a lack of cattle and refrigerator cars, livestock receipts dropped today to their lowest level since decontrol of price regulations took place.

Prices reacted where the influences were felt. At some points, notably Sioux City, Ia., where an embargo against further receipts has been in effect this week, lower grade cattle were off as much as $3.00 a hundred pounds, vealers were down as much as $2.00 and no hogs were offered for sale.

Grained cattle at Chicago were $1.00 higher and slaughter lambs were up similarly although hogs declined generally about 50 cents a hundredweight. St. Louis, Mo.; Omaha, Neb.; Indianapolis, Ind., and South St. Paul, Minn., showed similar trends.

Announcement of decontrol of most still-regulated food products came after the close of most livestock markets and apparently had little effect on various commodities markets still open at the time.

CEILINGS ARE
AND ON SUGAREVERYTHING FROM BREAD TO BEER
IS RELEASED

BY EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

Washington, Oct. 23 (AP)—OPA today abolished price restraints on practically everything the nation eats and drinks, from bread to whiskey.

In the most sweeping decontrol action of its career, the agency lifted ceilings from all foods and beverages except sugar, syrups and rice. Also wiped out were ceilings on everything served in restaurants.

The decontrols are effective at midnight tonight.

The action meant that hundreds of thousands of workers are freed from wage controls. These controls apply only in industries subject to price ceilings.

Little Change Expected

Before today's announcement, OPA estimated that about 20 percent of the average family's food was under ceilings. Now less than 3 per cent will remain.

Freed by the order were bread, flour, baked goods, oranges, bananas, whiskey, beer, soft drinks, canned tomatoes, and a long list of similar items.

At New York, M. Lee Marshall, chairman of the Continental Baking Company, predicted that there would be little change in consumer prices of flour and bakery products.

Also in New York, leaders in the liquor industry said scotch and old bourbon may be easier to find soon. This forecast was based on rumor that considerable of these choice liquors had been held back because it was more profitable under OPA to sell blends and neutral spirits.

Confusion Avoided

Paul Porter, OPA chief who has been fighting a losing battle to maintain price ceilings, was not mentioned in the OPA announcement.

Instead the agency explained that because so many food and feed controls already had been lifted "it was not feasible or practical to maintain price controls on the remaining few food products except in a few cases where special reasons exist for retaining controls."

Such an effort, the agency added, "would not make a sufficient contribution to stabilization to warrant" it.

President Truman started the decontrol drive ten days ago by removing price ceilings from meats and livestock.

Earlier on August 20 the Price Decontrol Board had allowed wheat, corn and other major grains as well as milk, butter, cheese and all dairy products to continue free.

OPA said these decisions forced today's action. Any attempt to retain controls amid this mixed pattern would produce "confusion" the agency said.

Sweets Still Short

Sugar and rice were retained under ceilings. It was explained, because they are "critically short" and subject to rationing and set-aside programs.

OPA said that "high bidding" for short supplies of sugar, syrups and sugar colations "would exert too great pressure on the rationing controls."

On rice, OPA said part of it must be set aside for domestic and foreign areas producing sugar for the United States.

Among the many items released from price lids today were: Canned pineapple and pineapple

Economies Launched
By War Department;
Army Camps Closing

BY EDWARD BOMAR

Washington, Oct. 23 (AP)—A sharp cut in the number of post-war army camps and other army posts was forecast tonight by the War Department in disclosing military spending.

These measures were ordered as a result of directives from President Truman last August to lop a billion dollars from current military spending.

It was disclosed that Secretary of War Patterson and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower have decided on a policy of abandoning "installations that are not absolutely necessary or vital to the army."

However, in apparent wariness of protests from local interests and members of congress, the department withheld specific information as to which installations will get the axe.

The economy measures include:

1. Deferment of all permanent military housing construction in the United States and certain construction overseas;
2. Reduction of supplies and services of seacoast defenses;
3. Reduction of military detachments for caretaking, and the number of civilian guards at inactive stations;
4. Consolidation of the field artillery and coast artillery schools—among others—along with reduction of faculties and number of students.

The department previously announced release of 53,000 civilian employees.

Installations to be closed down include some held in a standby status for possible use in the war department's universal military training plan, and for training National Guard and organized reserve units.

Also marked for disposal are small isolated posts which the army has long deemed uneconomical to man.

Summarizing economy measures already approved in response to inquiries, the war department told a reporter the number of posts to be abandoned would be substantial.

From a wartime peak 2,075, the number of active posts of all kinds already has been cut back to 827 since V-J Day.

That raised the $85,000,000 limit set in August on reclamation expenditures this fiscal year to $110,000,000. Last Thursday, the ceiling on flood control expenditures was raised to $130,000,000 from $95,000,000.

Budget Director James E. Webb announced that he and reconstruction director John R. Steelman had jointly determined that the additional $25,000,000 was necessary for the reclamation program.

But they left it to the interior department to decide how the extra money should be apportioned among the dams, irrigation and land-reclamation projects it is constructing in the western states.

They further notified Secretary of the Interior Krug not to start work on any new projects that haven't reached the construction stage until he gets clearance from Steelman.

Russia Is Accused Of Censoring U. S.
Protest In Bulgaria

BY ALEX H. SINGLETON

Washington, Oct. 23 (AP)—Resentfully and publicly, the United States accused Russia today of forcing Bulgaria to censor and suppress an American protest against failure to guarantee a free election in Bulgaria.

The accusation was leveled two days after the state department disclosed that the Soviet Union had blocked a move by this country for the Allies to set up election safeguards.

Maynard B. Barnes, American political representative in Bulgaria, informed the department that censorship of the protest was ordered by Col. Gen. Sergei Biryusov, Soviet member of the Allied control commission for Bulgaria.

He said that Biryusov, "without consultation with his British and American colleagues" on the commission, had issued oral instructions to the Bulgarian foreign ministry for suppression of the exchange of correspondence covering the U. S. protest.

Bradley Sees Need
Of Getting Ex-GI
Back To His Church

Washington, Oct. 23 (AP)—General Omar Bradley asked army, navy and veterans service chaplains today to take the lead in getting the veteran "back to his church."

General Bradley, veterans administrator, addressed a luncheon meeting opening the annual convention of army and navy chaplains, he said:

"The question of getting the veteran back into the church and congregation is one of the most important facing the country today. Religion is the basis upon which we place everything else, and unless we have a solid foundation upon which to work, we may go astray as a nation."

JINGO RUMORS
BY PRESIDENTFIRST ASSEMBLY OF
UNITED NATIONS WELCOMED

BY FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

New York, Oct. 23 (AP)—President Truman welcomed the United Nations general assembly to the New World today with a firm declaration that fears of a third world war are "unwarranted and unjustified" and a stern warning that war rumors must be checked lest they impede world recovery.

The president in a 2,600-word address broadly restated American policy to the delegates of 51 nations as the assembly launched its first meeting in this temporary world diplomatic capital in an elaborately-decorated hall on the site of the 1939 World's Fair.

Mr. Truman told the assembly—and through it all peoples—that the United States would back the United Nations "with all the resources that we possess."

Talk Impedes Recovery

Mr. Truman, introduced by Paul-Henri Spaak, Belgian foreign minister and assembly president, agreed with Prime Minister Stalin in deploring talk of a new war.

"Lately we have all heard talk about the possibility of another world war," he said. "Fears have been aroused all over the world. These fears are unwarranted and unjustified."

"However, rumors of war still find willing listeners in certain places. If these rumors are not checked they are sure to impede world recovery."

The president also made it clear that:

1. The United Nations was created to preserve the peace and not to make it.
2. That the United States stands behind the veto right of the five great powers in the U. N. security council, with the condition added that the principle of unanimity among the five powers imposed upon them a "special obligation" to seek agreements to fulfill their responsibilities. He said that "The exercise of neither veto rights nor majority rights can make peace secure."
3. That the United States will "work patiently for peace by every means consistent with self respect and security."
4. That two of the greatest obligations undertaken by the United Nations toward removing the fear of war remain to be fulfilled. He named those as the atomic energy problem and removal of the "deadly fear of other weapons of mass destruction."

The delegates gathered in the huge assembly hall after an official welcome from New York in ceremonies at the city hall and a luncheon in downtown Manhattan.

Peace Efforts Slow

Acting Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri opened the meeting with a welcome to the delegates. He renewed his city's invitation to make Flushing Meadows the site of the permanent United Nations headquarters.

The president lost little time in getting down to cases. He said that the United States was proud that the United Nations had chosen this country as its headquarters

Butcher Of Lidice
Hanged In Prague;
Suicide Prevented

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 23 (AP)—Col. Gen. Kurt Daluege was convicted today of ordering the extermination of Lidice and was hanged three hours later in the Pankrác prison courtyard.

A Czechoslovak peoples court found that "The Butcher of Lidice" had issued the order which meant death to the 176 male adults of the little village, concentration camps for its women and dispersal for its children.

Prison guards foiled what apparently was a last-minute attempt of Hitler's last "protector of Bohemia and Moravia" to take his own life. Poison was found in one of a dozen cigarettes which had been sent to him in his cell.

YOUTH ADMITS FOUR HOLDUPS

Parolee From Marquette
Caught; Others Escape
In Detroit Area

Detroit, Oct. 23 (AP)—State police reported tonight that a 19-year-old youth had admitted he was one of three bandits who committed four holdups in southern Oakland county and northwest Detroit in a three-hour span Wednesday.

The other two escaped an intensive search of a mile-square area by state police, sheriff's officers and police from more than half a dozen cities.

Capt. Donald S. Leonard, head of the state police uniformed division, identified the youth as Ora A. Krider, Jr., of Van Dyke, Mich., and said he was on parole from Marquette Branch prison after serving a burglary sentence.

Krider was picked up about a half mile from the blockaded area, where he said he and the other two spent the remainder of the night after a round of holdups beginning shortly after midnight and ending about 3 a. m. The trio's car was abandoned after a 20-minute chase by police.

Leonard said more than $1,300 in money and jewelry was obtained by the three.

Explosions Kill 38 British Sailors In Corfu Channel Area

London, Oct. 23 (AP)—An admiralty spokesman told Commons today that 38 British sailors were killed and 45 injured in two not entirely explained explosions which blew the bows off the destroyers Saumarez and Volage while they were a mile and a half from the Albanian coast yesterday.

"Yes sir," answered John Dugdale, financial secretary to the admiralty, when Winston Churchill asked "is this the same channel where our cruisers were fired on by the Albanian batteries some months ago?"

Dugdale said the first destroyer, the Saumarez, a 1,650-ton veteran of the sinking of the German battleship Scharnhorst in the Arctic in 1943, was "believed to have hit a mine" in the Corfu channel.

Of the 1,710-ton Volage, damaged nearly two hours later while towing the Saumarez, Dugdale said only, "there was an explosion."

He added that both warships had reached the Greek island of Corfu and that an admiralty board was investigating.

Von Papen Freed, Claims Nazis Run Courts In Germany

Nuernberg, Germany, Oct. 23 (AP)—Franz Von Papen finally left the Nuernberg jail today, three weeks after his acquittal of war crimes, and promptly charged the German denazification courts with former Nazis.

The "gray old fox" of German diplomacy challenged the right of Bavarian denazification courts to try him, and said that he agreed with statements by U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) about the war crimes trials.

Interviewed in a tiny apartment in downtown Nuernberg, which is in the United States zone, Von Papen said that apurkammer (denazification) officials had not paid enough attention to the fact that he was acquitted by the international military tribunal.

"I believe I was acquitted," he said with an ironic smile.

Von Papen had been in prison for 18 months. His status during the last three weeks, however, had been that of a "guest."

Refrigerators And Radio Tubes Higher

Washington, Oct. 23 (AP)—OPA raised price ceilings on radio tubes 14 per cent today, effective immediately.

It also boosted ceilings on household mechanical refrigerators sold by appliance dealers by 2 per cent, effective Saturday.

OPA attributed both increases to a provision in the price control extension law which requires that manufacturers, wholesalers, distributors and retailers be allowed pre-war profit margins.

The refrigerator increase, OPA said, will lift the retail price of a standard 7-cubic foot box from $209.50 to $213.75.

Adrian, Mich., Oct. 23 (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Russell Mansfield was convicted today on a first degree murder charge in the May 31 fatal beating of Charles Plummer, 74, a retired Morenci farmer.

A Lenawee circuit court jury took only 21 minutes to convict the youth who served as his own trial attorney. He did not testify during the trial.

Sales Tax Amendment Bad For Schools And Teachers, Says Solon

Lansing, Oct. 23 (AP)—Rep. Edson V. Root, of Bangor, chairman of the House education committee, declared today the sales tax diversion amendment on the November 5 ballot was intended for the benefit of a few large cities, mostly 15-mill cities, and would contribute nothing to equalization of educational opportunity in Michigan.

Juice; breakfast cereals; canned fish; macaroni and spaghetti; candy; and all raw and processed foods, both domestic and imported.

OPA acted with so much speed on its original decontrol announcement that this had to be corrected several hours later to show that "rough and finished rice" remained under control instead of "rough and milled rice."

The agency also announced later that ceilings had been lifted from edible and inedible oils, including olive oil and some castor oils.

Ceiling will remain, however, on a long list of inedible oils, fats and tallow which are required in production of paint and soaps, both on the scarce list.

Draftdodger Hidden By Women 5 Years Sent Off To Prison

Detroit, Oct. 23 (AP)—Lloyd I. Chavis, 35-year-old draft dodger, who was hidden throughout the war by two schoolteachers, went off to jail today "feeling like a motherless child."

Judge Theodore Levin sentenced the self-styled artist to three years in federal prison after Chavis pleaded guilty to a draft evasion charge.

"I was a fool to ever have loved the way I did. I feel like a motherless child," Chavis told the federal judge.

FBI agents said Chavis told them the two women spent $15,000 on him over a five-year period to protect his talents from the rigors of army life.

The teachers, Mrs. Opal Lamphiers, 36, of Warren township, his divorced wife, and Miss Jeanne Foster, 27, of Ann Arbor, have pleaded guilty to charges of harboring him and are awaiting sentence.

The federal agents said Opal sheltered Chavis from June 17, 1941, when he was subject to draft call, until in 1943 when she divorced him. Miss Foster then sheltered Chavis until a couple of months ago, the FBI added.

Key Witness Balks In Detroit Liquor License Fix Case

Detroit, Oct. 23 (AP)—The Charles F. Hemans "recalcitrant witness" case which has stalled court proceedings in the Lansing bank bill conspiracy case was virtually duplicated here today in another legal battle.

Within a little more than 12 hours a key witness went to jail on a grand jury contempt charge, refused to testify in a court examination, and returned to the custody of the U. S. government after a federal court arraignment.

The witness, Herman (Turk) Prujansky, stood on his constitutional rights to balk at testifying in the examination of AFL Unionist James R. Hoffa and two others accused by a grand jury of conspiring to "fix" a liquor law violation.

If it passes, Root said, 170 school districts which levy no local school taxes and depend entirely on state school aid will receive twice as much money from the state as they do now, another 904 districts which require only a four-mill local school tax to supplement primary school fund grants from the state probably will be able to escape local school taxes entirely.

Asserting the amendment would lead to an "educational disaster," Root said:

"From a total educational standpoint, there is no fairness in the proposition. * * * University, Michigan Tech, colleges of education, schools for the handicapped, special education, aid to the junior colleges, vocational education, rural agricultural school aid, adult education, and aid through the office of county commissioner, as well as appropriations to keep the teachers' retirement fund sound, all depend upon appropriations from the public till.

For the public schools to take a position that would impoverish the state and make it difficult for these other important educational agencies to be properly financed is unthinkable. The GI educational program would suffer with the rest, and the Wayne university project would have to be shelved."

Arguments that the amendment would bring a large pay increase to teachers are "pure bunk," Root said.

Russia Cuts Down Her Armies Again; Manpower Needed

Moscow, Oct. 23 (AP)—Soviet Russia announced another cut today in her armed forces, the fourth since the end of the war.

The decree of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet, coming on the day the United Nations general assembly was opening in New York, emphasized again the words of Prime Minister Stalin to a British correspondent a month ago that he saw no real danger of a new war.

It also emphasized the drive which Russia is making to put manpower back into industrial and agricultural production programs of the five year plan, and the 56,000,000,000 ruble ($10,000,000,000) cut in the Russian defense budget for next year.

The decree said "older ages of soldiers and non-commissioned officers of land troops" would be sent home from the army in the period from Nov. 1 to Jan. 1. It did not say what age groups were going back to civilian life. It does not affect officers or men of the air force and navy.

Oil Burner Blast Traps Family; Ten Perish In Flames

East Hampton, Conn., Oct. 23 (AP)—Trapped while asleep by fast spreading flames that followed an oil burner explosion, ten persons perished today in their small, one-family house at Lake Pocotopaug.

The victims were Mrs. Edward Nelson, 46; her eight children, Mrs. Betty Yeltema, 23, Mrs. Mary Kevin Hall, 19, Rita Clark, 17, Edith Nelson, 15, Christina Nelson, 14, Chapin Nelson, 12, Charles Nelson, 9, and John Nelson, 8, and Mrs. Yeltema's six-week-old daughter, Jacqueline.

They died, said Medical Examiner Norman H. Gardiner, from "asphyxiation by fire."

JINGO RUMORS ARE DEPLORED BY PRESIDENT

and declared that "the overwhelming majority of the American people, regardless of party, support the United Nations."

Then he plunged into the heart of what many United Nations observers regard as the paramount problem of the day when he said that the American people "are troubled by the failure of the Allied nations to make more progress in their common search for lasting peace."

"The United Nations," he said, "as an organization was not intended to settle the problems arising immediately out of the war. The United Nations was intended to provide the means for maintaining international peace in the future after just settlements among the Allies as distinguished from the United Nations."

Four Freedoms First
He said that the peace settlements and the search for everlasting peace rest upon the four essential freedoms—"freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom from want, and freedom from fear."

Answering charges of imperialism which have been hurled at the United States, he said:

"The United States of America has no wish to make war, now or in the future, upon any people anywhere in the world. The heart of our foreign policy is a sincere desire for peace. This nation will work patiently for peace by every means consistent with self-respect and security. Another world war would shatter the hopes of mankind and completely destroy civilization as we know it."

The president frankly admitted that differences had arisen among the Allies but, he said, "it is not necessary to exaggerate the differences."

"For my part," he added, "I believe there is no difference of interest that need stand in the way of settling these problems and settling them in accordance with the principles of the United Nations charter. Above all, we must not permit differences in economic and social systems to stand in the way of peace, either now or in the future. To permit the United Nations to be broken into irreconcilable parts by different political philosophies would bring disaster to the world."

Atomic Control Assured
The president said that "propaganda that promotes distrust and misunderstanding among the Allies will not help us." He also said, however, that "in seeking unity we should not be concerned about expressing differences freely."

"The United States," he said, "attaches great importance to the principle of free discussion in this assembly and in the security council."

Getting down to the veto question, the president said that "it is essential to the future of the United Nations that the members should use the (security) council as a means for promoting settlement of disputes as well as for airing them."

The president said that "we must reach an agreement establishing international controls of atomic energy that will ensure its use for peaceful purposes only, in accordance with the assembly's unanimous resolution of last winter."

Mr. Truman said that the course of history has made the United States one of the stronger nations of the world, with special responsibilities.

"The American people recognize these special responsibilities," he said. "We shall do our best to meet them, both in the making of the peace settlements and in the fulfillment of the long-range tasks of the United Nations. . . may Almighty God, in His infinite wisdom and mercy, guide us and sustain us as we seek to bring peace everlasting to the world. With His help we shall succeed."

No Martial Music
There was no music, no martial airs by a war-like band. The setting was dedicated to the stark reality of the task facing the assembly, whether peace can be made everlasting.

The delegates, who had given him an ovation when he entered the hall and again when he began to speak, cheered when he said that freedom from fear of war "is attainable now" and again when he said that "the United States of America has no wish to make war, now or in the future, upon any people anywhere in the world."

When the president had finished Paul-Henri Spaak, assembly president and Belgian foreign minister, closed the first meeting and announced the delegates would convene again at 10 a. m. C.S.T. tomorrow. The most important business tomorrow will be the report of Secretary-General Trygve Lie and the beginning of

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

On Playing the Fiddle Badly

A favorite recreation in our town is getting together in one or another's home and making music. There's somebody at the piano; a guitar; a fiddle player; and Molly Birtles even has a harp!

What comes out isn't the best music in the whole world. In fact, a lot of it is downright bad. But nobody even thinks to question or to criticize.

Because the spirit of harmony is there—harmony between folks who like each other's company, who enjoy the simple, homey atmosphere —with nothing more exciting than old songs, and a glass of moderate beer or cider.

From where I sit, it's a heap more important to be a poor fiddle player, than not to play at all. More important to be a part of the American scene—with its community music, home entertainment, friendly glass of beer—than to hold out for professional perfection. (Besides, I like to play the fiddle—even badly!)

LAUDS MR. CLEARY

October 22, 1946

Editor
Escanaba Daily Press
Escanaba, Michigan
Dear Sir:

As a disabled veteran, I wish to voice my disgust at the recent actions of the Delta County Board of Supervisors and their attitude concerning the office of Veterans Affairs.

In a few days I am to begin studies at Michigan College of Mining and Technology, thanks to Mr. Cleary who interceded in my behalf by telephoning Grover C. Dillman, President of the College. No other organization in Delta County would have achieved that result in five minutes.

In August, 1945, I became ill of aggravated wounds. The Veterans Administration requests that an application for admission to the hospital be filed, and one will be notified when to report. Anyone who has had anything to do with the Government and V. A. Agencies knows all the red tape made use of to delay action. Mr. Cleary telephoned the V. A. Hospital at Wood, Wisconsin and twenty-four hours later I was there, under doctor's care. Hospital records there will show my case as critical for two months which shows the necessity for immediate results.

Yours very truly,

Lloyd H. Bruce,
Bark River, Michigan

such as are given by Mr. Cleary and his office.

While I was in critical condition, the Veterans Administration wrote me that my National Service Life Insurance has lapsed, due to non-payment of premiums. Mr. Cleary immediately produced from the O.V.A. files a copy of a letter to the V.A. dated six months previously, requesting that the insurance premiums be deducted from my disability compensation. In view of this, the V.A. apologized for their error.

These are a few of the services rendered me by the O.V.A. These are the results that mean so much to we veterans, since I am not an isolated case who has benefitted thus.

In view of the faithful service and results given by Mr. Cleary, no further discussion should be necessary. The stupid view that anyone is gaining political prestige or advantage through the Office of Veterans Affairs should be thrown out the window.

It must be very odious to Mr. Cleary, who has freely given his time, experience as a welfare officer, and who has achieved results, to have personal invectives thrown at him at every meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

Yours very truly,
Lloyd H. Bruce,
Bark River, Michigan

672 Million Trees!

THE report of the Lake States Forest Experiment station at St. Paul reveals that public agencies have planted a total of 672 million trees in Michigan from the time that tree planting was started on a large scale in 1923 through 1944. This represents more than half of the total planted in the three lake states of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Federal plantations constitute more than two-thirds of the total tree plantings in Michigan, but the state also has made a notable contribution, 206 million trees.

All of these trees, comprising mainly jack pine, red pine, white pine and white spruce, were planted by hand labor and, of course, the great bulk of it was planted in the days of the CCC.

The cost of tree planting has risen sharply in the postwar period so it is encouraging to note that a machine has finally been perfected that will materially lower the cost of planting on at least a part of the forest lands marked for reforestation. The experiments now being conducted at Steuben are far enough advanced to show rather conclusively that machine planting of trees is possible on land that is not too rough.

For the time being, at least, the use of a machine planter will have to be confined to areas suited to its use. U. S. Forest Service officials estimate that only about 20 per cent of the land in the Hiawatha forest can be machine planted, but at that, it represents a means of saving considerable money in performing a service that has come to be recognized as highly essential to this area.

There is little doubt that later new machines will be perfected that will permit machine planting on a much larger percentage of forest lands. This will be accomplished as soon as a way is found to eliminate hand threading. When that goal is reached, any field that can be furrowed with a plow will be suited to machine planting of trees.

Machine planting not only will reduce the cost of tree plantings substantially but it also will practically eliminate the problem of securing hand labor, a problem that has slowed down tree planting in Michigan considerably this season.

Buildings Are Bait

TIME was when communities were willing to offer free taxes, free buildings and other concessions to attract new industries, but times have changed.

Now there are scores of entrepreneurs who are willing to start new factories if communities of private individuals have industrial buildings to sell or rent. It's the lucky community that had the vision some years ago to acquire ownership of vacant factory buildings to offer to new industries when the opportunity arose.

Such a case is Stoughton, Wis., which paid $100,000 for the million dollar plant of the Mandt Wagon branch of the Moline Plow company, which went out of business in 1923. Six industrial concerns now share space in the huge building, furnishing employment to five hundred persons.

A vacant factory building is all the bait a community needs to lure new industry, nowadays. How long such conditions will prevail is a question that is difficult to answer, however, but there are opportunities for those who can figure a way of either repairing old buildings or erecting new ones.

They're Unappreciative

RUSSIA and her political satellite, Czechoslovakia, got what they had coming to them when Secretary of State Byrnes declared that this country will not grant loans to nations who fear that they might thereby become "slaves of dollar imperialism."

The war is over now, and Soviet Russia apparently is doing everything possible to dominate Europe on the political and economic fronts. While she has been anxious to obtain American money for the rehabilitation of her war-torn cities, Russia does not want America to obtain any credit for so doing. Instead, she resorts to the usual Communist technique of putting the imperialism label on our efforts to help the European countries recover from the damaging effects of a long war.

Loans that are made to European countries by this country must be made with money supplied by American taxpayers. These taxpayers are the real economic slaves.

Russia appeared outwardly grateful for the tanks and other weapons we sent her during the critical days the Hitler armies were overrunning her territory. But with the war won, her ruthless acts cannot help but exasperate the American diplomats and the American people. If America returns to isolationism, it will be because Russia has not learned that she must assume a "give and take" attitude if she is to develop amicable relations with other nations.

Potato Show

DELTA county's progress in potato growing will again be displayed at the seventh annual tuber show to be held on Thursday. The high quality potatoes that are being grown in this county will be on exhibit at 614 Ludington street. Then, there will be the annual Escanaba Potato Boosters association's party at the Cornell hall in the evening, when the county queen will be crowned and growers will receive their prizes for outstanding achievements in the raising of potatoes.

Escanaba citizens would do well to show their interest in the potato industry by attending the show on Thursday. The thousands of dollars Delta county farmers are making annually with their potato crops mean considerable to Escanaba, where much of this potato money is spent in the stores and other business establishments.

Hotel Fire Menace

ONE of the survivors of the LaSalle hotel fire disaster has filed suit against the hotel management for $30,000 damages. The complainant, a resident of Grand Haven, charges that the hotel was negligent in not inspecting fire hose regularly and failing to call the fire department immediately after the disastrous blaze was discovered.

Lawsuits of this type will likely cause hotel managements to pay closer attention to fire regulations. Since the LaSalle fire, however, officials of several cities have redoubled their fire prevention efforts.

Chicago's fire marshal has started an instruction course for hotel managers on fire prevention. The city council also is taking steps to tighten its city ordinance governing sprinkling systems and automatic fire alarms.

In St. Louis, a survey of hotels disclosed fire precaution violations in 166 of the 202 visited. The Dallas fire department has begun a program to train hotel employees in the proper handling of elevators, fire extinguishers and fire fighting tactics.

During the war, hotels in crowded metropolitan areas were too busy taking care of the rush business to pay much attention to fire hazards. Wartime shortages of materials and labor also stymied repairs and installation of fire safety equipment. But the hotels now have the opportunity to take whatever steps are needed to assure the safety of their guests and the public.

OCTOBER PAGEANT (Grand Rapids Press)

A drive along a country road at this time of year will reward anyone with a blaze of color to rival the most brilliant painting of a Van Gogh. Trees and shrubs and late autumn flowers are rich in browns, reds and yellows—and, best of all, are to be seen by residents of this part of Michigan without having to travel, at most, more than a couple of miles from the home doorstep.

Kent county has many fine natural attractions currently resplendent in their fall garb. Almost any highway or side road will serve the purpose of an impromptu "color tour." The rolling, wooded hills which virtually surround Grand Rapids; such parks as Fallasburg, Johnson, Townsend and others; streams which, like Honey or Mill creek, wind and wander through fields and forests—these afford a fascinating variety of autumn scenes calculated to inspire enthusiasm in even the most confirmed city-dweller.

But it is not the trees, bushes and flowers alone that make a walk or drive in the country now the satisfying experience it is, for clouds and air, and the haze that hovers on the horizon all conspire to rout a person's worries and to still the clamor of the world outside. Nathaniel Hawthorne put it all in a sentence when he wrote: "There is no season when such pleasant and sunny spots may be lighted on, and produce so pleasant an effect on the feelings, as now in October."

Front gold teeth have completely lost their popularity, says a dentist. Just a flash in the pan.

A CHECKLIST OF COMMON ERRORS

This is the most amazing list of words I have ever compiled. The words are misused by nearly everyone, including some of the best-known writers in England and America. In fact, the cited mistakes are exact quotations from famous books, articles in our leading magazines, and nationally syndicated columns.

Exotic. "the exotic Rita Hayworth looking especially lovely," etc. Rita is lovely, without doubt. But exotic? Not unless you wish to say that she is outlandish. Exotic does not mean glamorous, alluring and mysterious. It simply means, "from a foreign country," as any good dictionary will attest. Since Rita is a native American, she is anything but exotic.

Welsh Rarebit. "I've a new recipe for a Welsh rarebit that I want you to try." The proper name for the dish of melted cheese is Welsh rabbit. Webster's New International: "Welsh rabbit, sometimes erroneously called 'Welsh rarebit.'" Funk and Wagnall's New Standard: "The form 'rarebit,' given by Grose and other old dictionaries, is now regarded as erroneous."

Rubble. "Nothing remained of the great steel bridge but a pile of twisted rubble." Rubble does not mean wreckage. Rubble is irregular, broken stones or bricks used in coarse masonry. "And what had been Hiroshima was now a mass of smoldering rubble." Nonsense; rubble doesn't burn. And, except for a few buildings of rein-

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Los Angeles—Here in Southern California, the Wallace affair has cut deeper than perhaps anywhere else in the country. The blow-up in the Truman administration shocked Liberals and Leftists, and their sentiment is a factor to be considered in the election next month.

Childs

When he invited Wallace to speak at a big political rally in Los Angeles this week, Democratic State Chairman James Roosevelt knew there were certain risks involved. In what Wallace says, he may alienate the votes of Conservative Democrats.

But Roosevelt also knew that it was necessary to take that chance in order to give the Left Wing of the party something to cheer about and work for. In this state, the Liberal-Left is far and away the dominating element in the party. Despite the shock of the Wallace controversy, the Democrats here seem more confident than they are in the East and Middle West. What is more, there seems to be some reason for their confidence. Differences between Left and Right are sharper than they are in the rest of the country and therefore the possibility of a mass protest vote to turn the "Ins" out is less likely.

—ROGERS FOR SENATOR—

The Democrats today hold 16 of California's 23 seats in the House. The Democratic leadership is confident of retaining all but one or two of these seats.

The Democratic candidate for senator is Will Rogers, Jr. The name counts for a lot in the West, where the elder Rogers was a folk hero of legendary proportions. Rogers looks much younger than his 34 years, and his personal charm goes over big with California audiences. He gave up a seat in the House to go to war, and that is an asset, too.

Young Rogers does not take naturally to politics. He is inclined to offend those who otherwise could be counted on to be active in his support. In contrast, Jimmy Roosevelt is proving to be a shrewd political operator. During the campaign he is devoting full time to what is not a salaried job, and he is getting around to obscure parts of the state where Democratic leaders have rarely been seen.

Rogers is opposing Sen. William F. Knowland, who is also a young man by senatorial standards, and also a veteran. Knowland, with his attractive wife, is making a campaign which is impressive for its sheer endurance. He is stumping this whole state, with its wonderful variety of geography and climate, from one end to the other. Starting early in the morning and going until late at night, Knowland makes from 10 to 14 speeches and appearances a day.

—KNOWLAND OPPOSED WALLACE—

He has ridden the Wallace issue hard. While the Democrats in Washington and in the country were still wondering what was going to happen next, Knowland called for Wallace's resignation and for support of Secretary of State Byrnes' "firm" policy toward Russia.

In his fight for re-election, he is handicapped by the fact that California's master politician, Gov. Earl Warren, a Republican, is above the battle, having won both the Republican and the Democratic primaries—something no governor had ever done before. Warren made certain he would not have to face a contest this fall. Everyone seems to agree that, if he were actively stumping the state, the chances for Knowland and other Republicans to come through would be greatly enhanced.

That is one effect that the announcement of the Wallace visit to Los Angeles had. Warren issued a defiant blast, challenging Wallace's right to come into the state.

The Republicans are hopeful that this means Warren will make at least two or three speeches for the ticket before the campaign ends. He had agreed to go on the radio at least twice for Knowland, but that is not the same as a personal appearance before an enthusiastic crowd.

As in the nation's other great urban centers, the test on Nov. 5 will be how the great mass of city workers cast their ballots.

Hollywood champions of the Liberal-Left, such as Edw. G. Robinson, continue to believe that New Deal Loyalties will hold and that the Democratic vote in the cities will be surprisingly large, so large as to counter the trend toward the Republicans in the farm areas and in the small towns.

At the moment, that sounds like wishful thinking. The mood of change that is upon the country, with its unrecurrent of discontent, may have no deeper meaning than a desire to put the "Ins" out. It often seems that under our political set-up this is the only form of expression that discontent can take. Not until we get into trouble do we pay very much attention to the political system we live under.

forced concrete which were not leveled by the atom bomb. Hiroshima was a city of flimsy houses of wood, paper and sheet iron.

Preventative. "The new drug is hailed as a long-needed preventative of asthma and hay fever." The correct word is preventive, formed by adding -ive to the verb prevent, exactly as inventive is formed from the verb invent. Webster's: "Preventative an irregularly formed doubtful." Funk and Wagnall's: "Preventative, a spurious variant—resting on a false analogy."

Fulsome. "Mother had prepared for us one of her typically fulsome meals." "He heaped fulsome praise upon us." "The sun shone fulsome as we went into the garden." "Her figure was fulsome and mature." Beware of this word! Go to any dependable dictionary, and you will find that fulsome means: disgusting; offensive; foul; nauseating; repulsive. If mom's meals are "typically fulsome," she should be run out of the kitchen for keeps.

PROPOSAL NO. 2—There has been considerable local discussion of Proposal No. 2 which, if adopted, would amend the state constitution to give the schools, cities, villages and townships one-third of the state sales tax—and would in addition assure the schools of an amount equal to 42.6 per cent of the previous year's total sales tax revenue. This last would be granted annually from the state general fund by the legislature.

Dunathan

There has been considerable local discussion of Proposal No. 2 largely because of the forceful publicity campaign being conducted in favor of the proposal by the Michigan Education Association. Service clubs, Parent Teacher Association groups and other gatherings have been advised of the benefits accruing to the schools under the proposal. Since the schools and the MEA have made the proposal a matter of public discussion, there should be no criticism of further examination of the proposed amendment. Voters have the right to discuss such matters, even though the discussion go beyond the "Vote Yes" point.

WOULD HELP SCHOOLS—The position of the schools and its MEA, recognized as one of the most potent lobbies in the state, is entirely understandable. For that reason they can be considered sympathetically.

Proposal No. 2 would assure the schools of more money than they have ever had before in the history of the state—yet the amount would do little more than meet their needs. Even the most casual observer, and certainly every parent, knows that the schools for the most part are in fair to poor physical condition. Many schools are in need of costly repairs, and others certainly must be replaced within the not distant future.

It is admitted that teachers' salaries are much too low. Some salary increases have been granted, but funds are insufficient to bring them up where they belong. For the man or woman who has made teaching a profession, the present situation borders on penury. For the person contemplating teaching as a profession, the outlook is extremely discouraging.

NEED IS THERE—The schools can make an excellent case for themselves in asking support of Proposal No. 2 at the polls Nov. 5. This they have done and, as we mentioned before, the reaction of the voter has been sympathetic. If Proposal No. 2 is adopted it will be because there is general understanding of the school situation and the need for additional financing.

THE OTHER SIDE—Continuing this discussion, let's take up the other beneficiaries of Proposal No. 2.

As we have explained, the schools, cities, villages and townships would be given one-third (or one cent of three) of the state sales tax. The schools would receive one-sixth or one-half cent of the sales tax revenues, and the cities, villages and townships together would receive the remaining one-half cent—or one-sixth of the total.

As we have pointed out, the schools do need the additional revenue. The same cannot be said for the cities, villages and townships in

INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago—1936

In the largest voting since 1930, members of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce yesterday elected five members to the Board of Directors. Those elected were, F. J. Earle, L. J. Jacobs, C. J. Sawyer, William Warrington and A. J. Young.

Cold fall weather prevailed in Escanaba Friday following a freezing night which brought a low temperature of 19 above zero, freezing shallow pools.

George Burt, 28, of Hermansville, passed away Friday morning at 5:45 at St. Francis hospital following a streptococcus infection of the throat.

Mr. and Mrs. Albin R. Anderson, 218 North 18th street, returned Thursday from Bay City, Mich., where Mr. Anderson attended the Michigan Odd Fellow's Convention.

Rev. Olympia Brown-Willis, 91, one of the pioneer campaigners for women suffrage rights, born in Prairie Ronde, Mich. died tonight at her Baltimore home after a short illness.

A son weighing eight and a half pounds was born Friday evening to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Scheibner, 122 Ogden avenue.

Agnes Lamothe visited here yesterday enroute to her home in Iron Mountain.

The special train of Frank Sargent, president of Chicago and N. W. Ry. is scheduled to arrive in this city this afternoon. Mr. Sargent is paying a visit to the Upper Peninsula in the interests of the company.

A terrible earthquake which shook the whole of Armenia public Friday night, killed or buried alive more than 300 persons in and around Leninakan. Half the town was destroyed and hardly a building escaped damage.

Michigan. Perhaps for this reason you have heard very, very little about the "silent partner" in Proposal No. 2.

You have not heard the City of Escanaba, or the City of Gladstone, or the Village of Garden, or the 14 townships in Delta county conducting campaigns urging the passage of Proposal No. 2. Why? Because they do not need even a fraction of the estimated $20,000,000 which would be distributed to the cities, villages and townships in Michigan.

NO TAX SPREAD—While there may be some cities downstate which are in financial straits because their people will not tax themselves above the 15-mill limitation as does Escanaba, Gladstone and other cities, the cities in general are adequately financed by present revenues.

The villages in the majority have no financial problems, and as for the townships—only two or three in Delta county need to tax themselves for township operating costs. They receive a sufficient amount through intangibles tax and liquor tax revenues for the limited services performed.

FIGHT THAT FAILED—The alliance of the schools, cities, townships and villages followed a fight that failed two years ago. Grand Rapids, Flint and some other downstate cities sought a slice of the state sales tax but could not muster sufficient support. Then the townships and villages were added—and this year the schools were sold on the idea with the promise of one-sixth of the total.

Briefly, the schools need the money which they seek under Proposal No. 2, but the cities, townships and villages in the vast majority do not need it. How to vote on such a proposal must be left to the judgment of the individual.

Q. Is a "blue discharge" from the Army considered a dishonorable discharge?

A. A "blue discharge" is neither honorable nor dishonorable but one which merely states the act of discharge.

Q. If an amputee veteran already has a car, could he sell his present car and apply for another one at Government expense?

A. There is nothing to prevent the veteran who has already bought a car from getting another one at the Government's expense, if he qualifies. It would be easy to sell the veteran's car, but it may be difficult to find a dealer who can sell him one under the Government payment plan (available to only World War II veterans who have lost, or loss of use, of one or both legs at or above the ankle.)

Q. Is the Platt Amendment still in force?

A. No. The Platt Amendment of the Cuban Constitution, which gave the U. S. the right to intervene in Cuban affairs, was renounced by President Roosevelt as part of his good neighbor policy.

Q. What is avoirdupois weight used for, and from where does it get its name?

A. Avoirdupois weight is used for the weight of merchandise other than the precious metals. It derives its name from the French "avoirs" (averia), goods or chattels, and "poids," weight.

Q. What is meant by checks and balances?

A. Ways in which each branch of the government may check the action of the other branches. The President may veto acts of Congress; Congress may impeach the President and refuse to confirm his appointees. The Supreme Court may declare acts of the President or of Congress unconstitutional. The President and Congress together may check the Court in several ways.

Q. Name three famous names associated with the cast of The Birth of a Nation.

A. Lillian Gish, Mae Marsh, Henry B. Walthall, Donald Crisp, Wallace Reid, Sam DeGrasse, David W. Griffith, Robert Harron, and Jennie Lee.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Reports that a small number of atomic bombs had been sent to Northern England for stockpiling brought a flood of diplomatic denials from high U. S. sources. It is significant, however, that the British said little. Instead, they sent a very interesting figure to the United States.

He is Brigadier Menzie, top intelligence man of all England. Menzie is head of M5 (British Military Intelligence), M6 (British Military-Political Intelligence) and M12 (British Russian Intelligence). Reason for his hurried trip to the United States was to plug leaks.

Since England was a partner in producing the a-bomb, and since Canada, the third partner, supplied the uranium, it would seem that they were entitled to a share in the final result. Nevertheless, the decision to send a small quantity of a-bombs to England was so closely guarded that it was known only to about six top men in the USA. In that connection it is significant that very few civilians, even in the cabinet, know much of the whereabouts or numbers of the a-bomb. This was illustrated during a cabinet session shortly before Harold Ickes retired as Secretary of the Interior.

Ickes, who has a habit of speaking his own mind, said he understood that no civilian in the United States knew where the a-bombs were kept. All the bombs, he said, were in the hands of the military, a situation which he described as dangerous in that it might set the stage whereby a group of brass hats could take over the country merely by issuing an ultimatum.

Secretary of the Navy Forrestal took exception to this, whereupon Ickes asked: "Do you know where the a-bombs are kept?"

Forrestal admitted that he didn't. "Do you know where the a-bombs are kept?" continued Ickes, turning to Secretary Patterson, the head of the Army.

Patterson replied that he did not know. Ickes then asked President Truman if he knew where the atomic bombs were located. Again the answer was in the negative.

NOTE—In the opinion of this columnist, few military men have civilian welfare more at heart than General Eisenhower and Admiral Nimitz, present leaders of the Army and Navy forces. Not all the Army-Navy brass share their views, however, and a civilian board will soon take over complete control of the atom.

—MISSOURI CHICKEN LAYS EGG—

Commodore Jake Vardaman, one of the original Missouri gang whom Truman rewarded with a cushy 14-year job on the Federal Reserve Board, is now fulfilling some of the dire prophecies which his critics made about him. He has been sounding off against the anti-Wall Street speculation policies of his chief, Federal Reserve Board Chairman Marriner Eccles. Result has been dissension on a board which has the delicate job of guiding U. S. fiscal policy.

Vardaman, son of the late Senator Vardaman of Mississippi, moved to Missouri where he was none too successful in business and later affixed himself to the Truman entourage as naval attaché. In Washington he distinguished himself by drafting several enlisted men to paint and repair his house on government time. Later, when Truman appointed him to the Federal Reserve Board, Vardaman's navy record mysteriously disappeared from the files and was not available to senatorial inquiries during debate on his confirmation.

Now that he has been confirmed by the senate, Vardaman has been making speeches criticizing the no-speculation policy of his chief, Eccles has forbidden stock market investors to buy on margins. They have to buy stocks outright. Many economists pay tribute to this policy, say it was why the investing public took the recent stock market slump without a financial debacle.

Vardaman, however, has been sounding off not only against this no-margin policy but also against the Federal Reserve Board's restrictions on installment buying. He seems to want to go back to the wild-cat days of Herbert Hoover.

How long Chairman Eccles will take this from the Mississippi gentleman from Missouri remains to be seen. Son of a wealthy Mormon pioneer who had as many wives as he had banks, Eccles is a former Utah businessman and is considered one of the soundest economists of the New Deal. If he gets sore and steps off the reserve board it will be a serious blow to Truman.

U. P. POTATO SHOW PLANNED

Growers Will Be Helped In Program At Iron
River Next Week

Practices which improve quality and increase yields will be described when Delta county growers meet with growers of other counties at the 17th annual Upper Peninsula Potato Show in Iron River next week.

On Thursday afternoon, Oct. 31, last day of the three-day exhibit, specialists in various phases of potato cultivation will conduct an educational forum for growers. Their topics will include seed certification, marketing, oversize potatoes, insect spraying methods, distribution of surplus potatoes, and results of 1946 ring rot studies on experimental plots in six peninsula counties.

Tuesday, Oct. 29, will be Entry Day for admission of samples at the Iron River high school gymnasium. On Wednesday, entries will be judged by H. C. Moore and L. C. Nelson, Michigan State college experts. The Potato Show banquet will be served on Thursday evening in the Stambaugh high school gymnasium.

The U. P. Potato Queen will be crowned at the banquet. She will be selected Wednesday from a group of contestants representing the potato-producing counties. County potato show queens who will comprise her court of honor will be introduced at the banquet. Miss Colleen Rappette, Gladstone,

RESOLUTION

BE IT HEREBY RESOLVED:

That the State Licensee Advisory Council, consisting of bona-fide delegates from local and district by-class Licensees Associations of 44 Counties in the State of Michigan, do hereby, in a highly cooperative spirit, set forth as follows:

A. That the Michigan Liquor Control Commission in the past, has not sufficiently or accurately publicized the true function of the State Liquor Control Commission Enforcement Division, with the result that the citizens of the State are not thoroughly or properly informed as to the purposes of that department as evidenced and indicated by the Acts of the Legislature of the State, and do therefore present the following recommendations to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

1. That the Michigan Liquor Control Commission take immediate steps to start and continue, through its Public Relations Department, a complete program which will emphasize the true function of its enforcement department as follows:

a. That the primary enforcement of the liquor laws, is the duty of the local enforcement officers through local courts of law, as set forth in Act number eight of Public Acts of the Extra session of 1933-34.

b. That in an effort to compensate local Governmental Units for expense of this enforcement, this Act provided that 85% of the license fees should be returned to the local Governmental Units, thereby leaving to the Liquor Control Commission only 15% of such license fees and that it was therefore evidently not the intention of the Legislature that the Liquor Control Commission be called upon to perform these local police duties.

c. That hereafter, the Michigan Liquor Control Commission should not usurp this primary duty of local enforcement agencies, except when it is evident that there is a breakdown in local law enforcement.

d. That in those instances, the Michigan Liquor Control Commission should notify the local Governmental Officers of such a laxity in local law enforcement, with the recommendation that action be instituted against such law enforcement officers "who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to perform the duties imposed upon him" as provided in Section 1, of Act eight of the special session of 1933-34, as amended.

e. That the Liquor Control Commission initiate such procedure as would be necessary to withhold the 85% of the license fees ordinarily returned to the local Governmental Units, in each instance where it is necessary for the Commission or its appointees to intercede.

f. That in those localities where local enforcement officials use the excuse of insufficient personnel, for their inactivity, the State Liquor Control Commission inform the local authorities that they should only approve such a number of licensed establishments as their local enforcement officials can properly police.

2. That in-so-far as inspectors interview prospective licensees and inspect their places of business before licenses are granted, that these inspectors take into consideration, the desirability of the character of the prospective licensees, their knowledge and information concerning the origin of the legislative and constitutional Acts legalizing this type of business and the provisions pertaining to this type of business.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that if the Liquor Control Commission will follow the above procedure as was evidently intended by the Act creating the Commission, it is our belief that the following results will be obtained.

1. There will be more efficient local Liquor Law enforcement in its entirety and Licensees will be given the same opportunity of defense by local courts of law as is given by the Constitution to every person.

2. That more time will be available for the State Liquor Control Commission to conduct much needed educational activities among all types of alcoholic beverage licensee, such as sanitation and acquainting licensees with the physiological and sociological aspects of the products they dispense.

3. That it will mean eventual elimination of about 90% of the Commission's present time and expense now used for investigation and hearings on Liquor Law violations, a responsibility partially shirked by local law enforcement officers since repeal.

4. That it will not be necessary for applicants for licenses to take long trips to Grand Rapids, Lansing, or other cities for the sole purpose of taking an examination covering their knowledge of the laws and regulations pertaining to this business, since this could be determined by investigators.

Unanimously adopted by all affiliate members of the State Licensee Advisory Council.

COURTLAND COIL, Secretary.

PLYWOOD PLANT PRODUCING NOW

Operations Started By Hiawatha Company,
North Escanaba

The Hiawatha Plywood company has started production at its plant in North Escanaba, Harry Bourke, manager, announced yesterday.

At present 10 men are employed by the firm but a crew of 15 will be on the job when production reaches capacity in a week or so. The additional men have already been hired, it was indicated.

The company will produce approximately 5,000 feet of furniture ply wood daily and will operate five days a week. Virtually all of the production will be absorbed locally by the Delta Furniture company, a subsidiary, by the Solar company, by Dearfree and by the Hiawatha Manufacturing company, a new woodworking industry getting established at the Chemical location.

The manufacture of furniture ply wood by the Hiawatha Plywood company will prove of particular benefit to the local furniture industry, which has been meeting considerable difficulty securing adequate stocks of ply wood. About a third of the production will be absorbed by the Delta Furniture company, which is now manufacturing five models of magazine baskets.

The hardwood veneer stock used in the production of furniture ply wood by the Hiawatha company is secured locally from the Birds Eye Veneer company but most of the softwood core stock, southern gum and western fir, is purchased from outside sources.

School Savings Program Carries On In Michigan

With the resumption of schools in Michigan, educators are at present occupied with a consideration of those activities which in the past have been productive of the greatest learning to youth. During World War II, a school savings program was initiated in Michigan and its success here brought about its adoption in every state in the union. Statistics gathered by the Savings Bonds Division of the U. S. Treasury indicate that five years ago only 2½ million American school children were learning thrift and personal money management in their schools. Last year, about 25 million pupils were engaged in this valuable practice.

It took a world war and the threat of inflation to make most educators realize that teaching children to spend and save wisely is a national necessity. The war is over, but the fight against inflation goes on; the peril is now acute.

Every school in the nation is in a position to teach personal money management, if it desires with the teaching aids prepared by the Treasury Department in cooperation with the U. S. Office of Education. These lessons, based upon the buying of U. S. Savings Stamps and Bonds, make it possible for our 30 million school children today to back their future with their savings as they backed the attack of our fighting forces in wartime. As the Treasury slogan says to them: "This time it's for YOU!"

Two new teaching aids have recently been made available by the Treasury: "Lessons in Budgeting," and "Teaching Mathematics Through School Savings." These will be sent to all teachers on request to the state office of the Michigan Savings Bonds Division, 1702 United Artists Building, Detroit 26. The first, teaches money management—a most important item in times of high prices, or low. The second covers elements of banking, interest, compound interest and discount—making them personally interesting to the student through his own savings.

Thousands of schools of the nation are enrolled in the School Savings Program; others are enrolling daily. To every school carrying on this program, the Treasury Department awards a School Savings Charter, which shows that it has enrolled to promote understanding of the personal and national reasons for saving, and to give students the opportunity to save at school through the purchase of U. S. Savings Stamps and Bonds. Many state Parent Teacher Associations have endorsed the program.

Amendment No. 2Proposal Would Divert One Cent of State Sales Tax to Schools and Cities

By JACK I. GREEN

Lansing—(AP)—Michigan voters will decide at the November general election the state's most controversial governmental issue—whether local governments shall cut themselves a share of the state's golden sales tax harvest.

The issue has split several legislative sessions, influenced governmental decisions and is competing with the selection of a governor for a share of election attention.

Politicians believe that no matter what the voters' decision the issue will continue to plague government for years because it is born out of the state's ready source of income and the local communities' lack of it.

Differ Strongly On Proposal
Attorneys differ strongly as to the effect of the amendment, proposal No. 2 on the November ballot, but they agree on this much, apparently:

It would give local governments—cities, villages, townships and school districts—one cent of a state sales tax. Fifty per cent of the rebate would go to school districts on the basis of school census. The other 50 per cent would go to counties on a population basis and would again be divided among the cities, villages and townships on a population basis. The county itself would keep none of it.

In addition, the amendment provides that the legislature may never appropriate to the school district in state financial aid an amount less than the proportion of its grants in 1945-46 to the sales tax revenues of the preceding year.

State Treasurer D. Hale Brake has said that if the sales tax brings in $140,000,000 this fiscal year—and it may—the municipalities would receive under the amendment $23,333,000 and the public schools $94,994,881, compared with a school-aid appropriation of approximately $62,200,000 this year. Under the freezing clause affecting school aid grants, the schools must always receive approximately 44 per cent of the sales tax of the previous year.

Schoolmen, although divided along population lines over the plus one-sixth of the sales tax total plan, have thrown their organized support behind the measure because they lack money to raise teachers' salaries and to construct new school buildings.

Larger Cities Favor Plan

The larger cities of the state generally favor the proposal because they find themselves bound to the property tax for income and property owners cry out they can stand no heavier assessments to meet the rising costs of local government.

Many of the communities most anxious for passage of the proposal are confined by the 15-mill tax limitation, their citizens have refused to lift that limitation and the city governments generally object to levying new taxes such as local sales, luxury, cigarette, or privilege taxes.

They turned their demands upon the legislature, asking for from one-sixth to one-third of the state's levy and were turned down on their request. The 1945 session, refusing their plea for what would have amounted to $16,000,000 in sales tax rebates gave them a total of $18,000,000 from the intangibles tax and a new 10 per cent liquor tax.

Proponents of the plan led by a conference of mayors, contend that the state has accumulated huge surpluses which could be shared with local government without injury to state services. They accuse the state of having $100,000,000 or more tucked away for a rainy day.

The state, they assert, operated a decade ago on a sales tax income of $30,000,000 and $40,000,000 and therefore does not need all of its current high revenues. The sales tax will continue to mount, they declare, and the state will always remain deaf to the cities' plight unless the people force a division of funds. They contend it is unfair to require them to raise additional revenue locally through higher property taxes or "nuisance" levies.

Snake Dance, Bon Fire
And Pep Fest To Whoop
It Up For Manistique

Manistique football fans are all agog over what promises to be the most exciting grand finale of any football season in the school's history.

It's not only a school affair. The whole town has caught a spirit of community pride in its young people. Buoyed up by the plucky comeback staged by the Emeralds against Sault Ste. Marie last Saturday, it begins to look as though the whole town will be present at Saturday afternoon's game to cheer the youngsters on to still greater effort.

William Cook, athletic director at Manistique high school, announced to a committee of the local Elks lodge Tuesday evening, that on Friday night high school children will parade in snake dance fashion down the main thoroughfares of the city, finally winding up on a city lot just north of the school stadium where a Saturday afternoon game will be held. The parade will be lit, school songs will be sung, pep talks will be given and football heroes of this and other years will be introduced. The public in general is asked to be present to see the fun and join in the frolic.

Stores To Close

Another innovation in connection with Saturday's observance is the fact that retail stores in the city—grocery, dry goods and drug stores—will be closed at 3 o'clock in order that managers and employees may help swell the tide of attendance. In the case of the drug stores, they will remain open at 5 o'clock, but the other stores will remain closed for the rest of the day.

Teams Evenly Matched

In Graveland, of Marquette, Manistique has a foe of about the same strength. For that reason the game is expected to be close and not so replete with those discouraging features that characterized the games with such teams as Gladstone and Ishpeming.

Coach Jerry Thompson, in discussing his team before the downtown quarterbacks at the Elks club Tuesday, disclosed the unusual fact that the average age of the players on the team is less than 16. Many of the boys on the team had never even played sandlot football up to the outset of the season. Inexperience is still the team's severest handicap, he said.

But they have developed remarkably well and two years from now Manistique should have a winning team, he said.

Ticket Sales Heavy

Volunteer workers among Manistique business men have been making a canvass of the town selling tickets and report that hundreds of them are being sold. It is expected that the sale, not counting student tickets, will run up to about two thousand.

A loud speaker will be used at the game to inform the public of its progress.

A plea for not only continued support in the Boy Scout movement, but a wish that greater interest be shown in the organization is voiced by S. N. Bradford, district Scout executive who states:

Scouting in Manistique is not a new program to its residents. During the past year, the program has been carried out to the fullest extent in various ways. The volunteer leaders have given of their support to the furtherance of the scouting program.

Manistique has three operating Scout units, which during the past year did a fine job in Scouting. Troop 460, sponsored by the American Legion, has been active in various projects, both from the standpoint of public service and boy programs. The troop is one of the older troops of the city. Its present Scoutmaster is Earl Jewett, a Scout of long experience.

The committee is composed of John Grimsley, R. G. Hentschell and Dr. A. R. Tucker. Troop 461, sponsored by the local Rotary Club, has gone a grand job in putting the outdoor in Scouting. Several projects of this nature are outstanding in the program of the unit. The troop is under the leadership of Ben Karowski, who has a wide experience in Scouting. The committee is composed of William Cook, Wm. J. Shinar and O. J. Schuster, with subordinates of H. B. Triggs, Dr. N. L. Lindquist, Carl Olson, Fred Hahne and Mauritz Carlson.

The third unit is that of the Lions club, with Louis Rogers as Scoutmaster. Mr. Rogers was one of the founders of the unit a few years back, and has once again taken over the direction of the unit, and is doing a fine job of it. The committee is composed of Hugh Kennedy, Edward LaFave and Roy Anderson.

In general the activities carried out within the Scouting program are: Courts of honor, of which several have been held during the past year, with a large advancement of Scouts, participation in public functions, being of service to local organizations, providing of an excellent program for the leisure time of the youth, a large representation of Scouts participated in the summer camp at Red Buck Scout Camp, and a host of other activities.

There should be proud of its long list of public minded citizens who are backing Scouting, namely those now connected with Scouting are: Judge Stephens, Lowell Hebbard, Art Hall, Dr. Shaw, Mr. Harbick, R. G. Hentschell, Fred Hahne, Mr. Oberg, William Cook, Mauritz Carlson, Roy Anderson, Frank Driedric, Ted Monroe, besides a host of friends of Scouting, who may not be directly connected with Scouting, but are lending service to the much worthwhile program.

There are great potential promises of increased Scouting in Manistique. There is need for a Cub Pack. This will be a project for the future months in Manistique. Cubbing is a program for boys between the ages of 9 and 12, centered around the home. Many a request has been made for such. This will be the next program to be offered in Scouting in this area.

Scouting is a much worthwhile program for the boy, it serves also the community in many ways. Any community having Scouting should feel proud of it, also proud of its men who will take of their time to provide opportunities in Scouting for its youth. Manistique has all these facilities.

Vets To Discuss
Bonus Question
At Legion Meet

What are the pros and cons of the veterans' bonus question? There is much being said by spokesmen for either side and there is also much misunderstanding of the objectives sought and the attitudes of the various veteran organizations.

Members of the American Legion who are hot and bothered over the subject are asked to come to the meeting of the local post at its club rooms this evening.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

Other entertainment is also planned by the entertainment committee.

Tommy Toy Plant
Installs Large
Hydraulic Press

A new hydraulic press, capable of processing in one operation what heretofore required the services of three machines, has been installed in the Heltman-Thompson Company plant this week.

With this machine, the forms of the "Tommy Toys" manufactured by the company can be cut from the sheet aluminum, pressed and trimmed and at greater speed than was possible with the use of ordinary cutters and trimmers.

This does not mean that there will be any reduction in the list of employees, the employers announce. The company is many weeks behind in its orders and new orders are coming in at an increasing rate, they claim.

Enlargement of the factory is planned as soon as building material is available.

WANTS MORE INFORMATION
Manistique, Mich.,

The Escanaba Daily Press
Escanaba, Michigan.

Dear Editor:

We the Methodist Youth Fellowship of Manistique, as a result of a citizenship study in our group have come to the conclusion that one of the important reasons our adults of today do not vote in larger numbers is the fact that our two local newspapers, The Escanaba Daily Press and The Manistique Tribune, as well as a majority of the newspapers of the United States do not discharge their reader obligation by publishing sufficient information pertaining to the pros and cons of the men running for county, state and national offices.

As young people we do not have the privilege of the ballot, but we do feel it is our obligation to appeal to you now before this fall election to give our parents and the parents of other youth, adequate unbiased information concerning the records of the candidates. Paid political advertising is biased, partisan information.

We believe it is an alarming situation when only a little over half of the citizens of Michigan exercised their right of the ballot at the last presidential election. These are the conditions favorable to dictatorship and the losing of our freedom of the press. Danger to the freedom of the press lies in easily lead vociferous minority group who sound off for their candidates.

We appeal to you to give your readers unbiased information that they may become intelligent voters at this November election and all future elections, especially the primary elections.

Yours truly,
Manistique Methodist Youth
Fellowship
Miss Ellen Steele, President.

ESKYMOS SEE CHANCE TO WIN

Marines Can't Be THAT Good, Ruwichtmen Decide

Just about everybody, it seems, figures that the Marinette Marines will take the Eskymos into camp Saturday by a margin of two or more touchdowns. That is, everybody but the Eskymos.

The Marines have brought forth rave notices wherever they have played this fall and the talk about their great backfield does, about their stellar line, their tremendous speed has created the impression that the Marines are composed of a gang of supermen.

Perhaps, perhaps. But the Eskymos figure differently. At any rate the Eskymos are conceding nothing to the talented visitors from across the border and they are preparing to get in a few good licks in their own behalf. If Belanger and Goymerac, the Eskymos' No. 1 passing-receiving combination, are ready for action Saturday after their two weeks absence due to injuries, the Eskymos may be able to score the upset of the year.

It isn't that Escanaba will rely mainly on a passing attack against Marinette because the big threat will be running power, built around the line plunging of Gustafson and Peterson's speed. A good passing threat, however, absent against both Kingsford and Iron Mountain, will serve to keep the Marinette defense from breathing down the necks of the Eskymo ball carriers.

Seats within the 40 yard lines at the Escanaba athletic field not already sold to season ticket holders will be offered on a reserved basis again Saturday, Principal E. E. Edick has announced.

Boxing Center Is Open Tonight

Little Ben Hogan Tops Golfers With $37,877 Winnings

Richmond, Va., Oct. 23 (AP)—Ben Hogan, the diminutive but long hitting golf pro from Hershey, Pa., despite the fact he missed the last three tournaments, still leads in total money won with $37,877.

Hogan, recognized as one of the greatest golfers of all times, has won ten tournaments this year and paired with Jimmy Demaret of Houston, Tex., to win two others. He was second in a number of others, including the Augusta Masters.

Second among money winners is Byron Nelson of Toledo, who recently announced he would play only in the Augusta event in the future. Nelson has picked up $22,333.

Others in the top are Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y., $21,957; Demaret, $16,976; Herman Keiser of Akron, O., $16,597; Lloyd Mangrum of Los Angeles, $13,763; Sammy Snead of Hot Springs, Va., $13,232; Jim Ferrier of Chicago, $13,096; Dick Metz of Arkansas City, Kans., $11,774; and Vic Ghezzi of Knoxville, Tenn., $11,351.

Penn Tackle Rated Lineman Of Week

BY TED MEIER
New York, Oct. 23 (AP)—A former Marine lieutenant, once believed killed in action on Okinawa, won the "Lineman of the Week" award in this week's Associated Press poll of outstanding linemen on college gridirons. He is Bernie Gallagher, tackle on the unbeaten and untied University of Pennsylvania eleven.

Standing 6 ft. 1 1/2 inch in height and weighing 213 pounds the 24-year-old Gallagher gained the top spot by his work against Virginia. All the Penn coaches feel that he has played better than any lineman on Franklin Field this season and that he is outstanding in every respect.

Two ends, All-America Hubert Bechtel, of Texas' mighty Longhorns, and Frank Jenkins, of Penn, came in for a high measure of praise.

Knox Ramsey again played a stellar game at guard for William and Mary. He spent most of the afternoon in the Washington and Lee backfield and achieved the goal of all linemen by intercepting a forward pass and sprinting 50 yards to payoff territory.

All-America Race Romp For Browns; Rockets Gain Best

New York, Oct. 23 (AP)—Although the all-conquering Cleveland Browns are making a run-away of the All-America football conference race, they lead in only a few departments of offensive and defensive play, according to official statistics released today.

Chicago's Rockets have the best average per game for total yards gained (296.6) and yards gained passing (162.3) while the New York Yankees are tops in defensive play with a record of having held the opposition to an average of 179.9 yards gained.

The Browns top the circuit in yardage piled up on the ground (151.3) per game, and in points scored for and against. Paul Brown's gridders have compiled 130 markers and held their rivals to 34 while romping victoriously through seven straight games.

BRAVES ALONE AT TOP OF HEAP

Gladstone Only Unbeaten, Untied Team In Peninsula

Gladstone is riding all alone at the top of the Upper Peninsula gridiron heap, the only undefeated, untied team out of the 27 fielded this year by Upper Peninsula high schools. Moreover, the Braves are regarded as a cinch to retain that ranking for at least one more week as they play the Stephenson Eagles Friday and the Eagles are not figured to have even an outside chance to upset the apple cart.

Stambaugh had a close call last weekend but finally knocked off the Kingsford Flivvers to retain their unbeaten record, which is blemished only by a tie with Norway.

Ironwood, previously unbeaten in Upper Peninsula competition but ranked twice in games with outside foes, took a nose dive in the standings as a result of a 33-7 shelling from the Menominee Maroons.

The peninsula grid roundup:

Lowly Cardinals Offensive Terrors Of Proposed Loop

New York, Oct. 23 (AP)—Despite their lowly position in the National Football League standings, the Chicago Cardinals are the offensive terrors of the circuit.

Jimmy Conzelmann's boys are so far in front in the loop's statistics for the main departments of offensive play that the Cardinal coach must be tearing out large hunks out of his thick crop of gray hair trying to figure out why his club can't better its third place position in the Western half of the standings.

According to official figures released today, the Cards are tops in total yards, 1577; yards gained through passes, 846; total points, 118; first downs, 66; and they are second to Philadelphia in forward passes completed with 49 to the Eagles 52.

Second and third in these departments are: Total yards, Chicago Bears, 1406, Los Angeles, 1384; yards by passes, Philadelphia, 741; Chicago Bears, 703; total points, Bears 113; Philadelphia, 95. First downs, Bears and Los Angeles, 62 each; Los Angeles is third in forward passes completed with 47.

Pittsburgh's Steelers are tops in yards gained rushing, 743, followed by the Bears' 696 and Los Angeles' 680.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

Menominee's 33-7 decision over Ironwood, previously unbeaten in U. P. competition, vaulted the Maroons back to the No. 1 spot in the peninsula grid rankings last week end, but where the other teams fit into the picture is a matter for considerable argument. Last week we rated Gladstone in the No. 1 spot when Menominee stumbled over Iron Mountain. We still stick the Braves for no worse than No. 2 and drop the other leading teams in a ranking like this: No. 3—Ironwood, 4—Escanaba, 5—Soo, 6—Iron Mountain, 7—Stambaugh, 8—Norway, 9—Bessemer, 10—Ishpeming.

Iron Mountain's position in No. 6, ahead of both Stambaugh and Norway, teams which knocked off the Mountaineers this season, has naturally brought forth some eyebrow-lifting on the Menominee range. The point is simply that we believe Iron Mountain had not yet hit its stride in those early season games and that the Mountaineers would be our pick to defeat either Norway or Stambaugh, were the teams to meet again at this stage of the season. It is not possible to rate each individual team above all other teams that it may have defeated during the season. If it were, Iron Mountain would rate above Menominee since the Mountaineers defeated the Maroons, 7 to 6.

Harris Denies He Has Accepted Job As Yankee Pilot

New York, Oct. 23 (AP)—Stanley (Bucky) Harris denied tonight a report that he had accepted the job as manager of the New York Yankees for next year and added emphatically "I have no plans to accept it either."

Five times a major league pilot, Harris said he was "perfectly satisfied" in his present position as an administrative assistant to Larry MacPhail, president of the New York American league club, and "have no intention of becoming field manager."

Commenting on a published report that he had been selected manager at a secret meeting yesterday, Harris said he didn't know whether MacPhail had decided on a manager. MacPhail himself denied the report last night.

"I just returned to New York from Washington, where I spent the week-end," said Harris. "I talked with MacPhail by telephone about some other club matters but we did not discuss the manager ship."

Yesterday's report said that Harris was named manager at a session attended by himself, MacPhail, league president Will Harridge and Charley Dressen, Brooklyn Dodger coach who was said to have been chosen as Harris No. 1 aide.

Meanwhile, it was reliably reported from other sources that Dressen had been offered the Yankee coaching job and probably would accept.

Iron Mountain—Niles Albert Tolson, former Channing resident who, it is believed, was working in a lumber camp near Republic, was killed early this morning when he was struck by a Milwaukee road freight train in Channing. The body, lying beside the tracks, directly in front of the Cheppewa restaurant, was found at 3:15 this morning by Curtis Sparks, of Channing, who notified state police.

Steers topped the market at $36.50, with most good and choice taken at $28.00 to $35.00. Medium grades brought $18.00 to $23.00, while best heifers merited $32.00 and mixed offerings reached $25.00. Beef cows were 25 cents or more higher with medium and good worth $14.00 to $18.00. A few choice lightweight sows brought $21.00, with most taking $20.50. Shippers bought 4,000 of the 8,000 hogs on sale and packers brought in 11,000 on direct consignment.

After a slow start lambs hit $21.50 for good and choice halves, drawing bucks $1.00. Ewes were steady to 25 cents lower at $8.00 to $8.25 for good and choice halves.

Receipts included 9,000 cattle, 600 calves, and 4,800 sheep.

STAGG, 84, BACK IN OLD CHICAGO

City Puts On Banquet For Grand Old Man Of Football

BY CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Chicago, Oct. 23 (AP)—It's homecoming week in Chicago for 84-year-old Amos Alonzo Stagg, who arrives with his College of Pacific football team tomorrow, ending a sentimental journey to the scene of his greatest triumphs.

The return of the "grand old man of football," who has served as coach in 542 college games—444 of them while at the University of Chicago—in his 56 years as mentor, has stirred many memories as the city prepares to pay him homage at a big banquet Friday night and between halves of the Northwestern-College of Pacific game Saturday.

Stagg, the lone survivor of the meeting that created the Western Conference 50 years ago, was placed on Walter Camp's first All-America team at end, capping a brilliant athletic career at Yale.

In 1889, to help improve Yale tackling, he suspended a rolled mattress for a target and thus invented the tackling dummy. Other developments credited to his inventive genius are the man in motion offense, the 7-2-2 defense and criss-cross plays now known as reverses.

Stagg's Pacific team, which has compiled two wins in four starts this season, employs a flanker system, an offensive art first introduced by him about 1907.

Blooming with razzle-dazzle which pleases the fans, his lineup is unorthodox. Positions in the backfield such as quarterback, fullback and halfbacks do not exist in the true sense of the word. To Stagg they are the "onback," "flanker back," "rear back" and "off back."

DELTA POTATO IS KING TODAY

Annual Show Attracts 49
Exhibitors; Announce
Winners Tonight

Delta county potatoes, this year reported to be of finer quality than ever before, today take the center of the stage in the 1946 County Potato Show which will be highlighted at tonight's dancing party in Cornell town hall where winning potato growers will receive awards and the county Potato Show Queen will be presented.

The seventh annual County Potato Show will open at 10 a. m. today at 614 Ludington street, Escanaba, where 49 of the county's most progressive potato growers will exhibit tubers.

The potatoes will be judged by Prof. Layton Nelson, East Lansing, of the potato department of Michigan State College. Of the 49 growers completing the Escanaba Potato Booster contest for 1946, 25 are growers of certified spuds, and 24 are exhibiting tablestock potatoes.

Quality Is High
Competing for a total of $595 in prize money, the winning growers will be announced tonight at Cornell, where a dancing program is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock. Top money in the certified and tablestock divisions will be $75.

E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent, busy yesterday arranging the exhibits, declared the quality of the tubers this year appeared to be excellent. While yields are satisfactory, they are not expected to approach the record-breaking production of 1944.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon, in the court house an educational program of interest to potato growers will be presented. Speakers will be Prof. Walter Morofsky and Prof. Nelson of Michigan State College. Clayton Ford, Cornell township potato grower, will conduct a section of the meeting in which delegates to the Potato Development Association will be selected.

Queens Contest
Annual feature of the County Potato Show is the contest to select a county young woman who will reign as Potato Queen. There are eight entrants from eight townships in the contest this year, and the committee responsible for selecting the county queen will make its announcement tonight at the party at Cornell.

The eight young women, one of whom will be queen and the others her "court", are as follows:

PIN-WORMS GO! New Treatment Gets Real Results

People don't like to talk about Pin-Worm infection. Sometimes they are too embarrassed to mention the tormenting rectal itching. And in many cases they have not known of any effective way to deal with this pest that lives inside the human body.

Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug (remian violet), a highly effective treatment has been made possible. This drug is the vital ingredient in P-W, the Pin-Worm tablet developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son.

The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms. So if you suspect Pin-Worms in your child or yourself, ask your druggist for a package of JAYNE'S P-W right away, and follow the directions. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money back.

It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

This "Stitch in Time" Service Saves
you Money & may Save your Life!

A change of an eighth of an inch in wheel alignment can cut your tire wear in half. But that's only half the reason for driving your car over the Bear Alignment Tester. Perfect wheel alignment is vital to safety yet most car owners don't even know there is such a thing as wheel alignment! Long before misalignment manifests itself by shimmy your car has become unsafe to drive. It takes but a minute to drive over the Bear Alignment Tester and be sure!

This "Stitch in Time" Can Increase your Tire Mileage as much as 50%

Unbalanced wheels are something to worry about. The chances are 100-to-1 that your car has them. There are two kinds of unbalanced wheels. Statically unbalanced. Dynamically unbalanced. For today's driving speeds wheels must be balanced both ways. To do this Will Dammann has created the Bear Dynamic Wheel Balancer. This machine shows you by means of a flashing NEON EYE the exact points of unbalance. Not only does this operation cut your tire bills, make your car steer easier, eliminate the destructive vibration which causes excessive wear and tear on your car but it also prevents accidents by giving you greater control of your car through the elimination of the chief causes of vibration and wheel shimmy.
